We use past continues to describe an action that was happening in that moment. We can use past continues to narrate and describe a past experience.

Tema: Past continuous

We use the past continuous to talk about the past:
for something which continued before and after another action:

Ex. The children were doing their homework when I got home.

As can be seen in the previous example, the children were doing something before I arrived home, so there an action was first than the other one.

I was watching TV when the phone rang.

Subject + was/were + verb (ing form) + complement.

Affirmative form:

My sister wasn't cleaning the house when my parents arrive.
