Name of the unit: Unit. 4

4.1 Talking about future plans

Objetivo de la unidad:

Expresa planes futuros en un contexto familiar e inmediato en una segunda lengua.

Tema:

Future with “will and going to”

Introducción:

Will and going to:

Both refer to the future and there is a slight difference between the two though in most cases they can be used interchangeably with no difference in meaning.

Desarrollo del Tema:

Future with “will”

Use the future with will to talk about an event in the future that you have just decided to do, for predictions and for promises.

Ex.

- I think I'll go to that party next week.
- The economy will get better soon.
- Yes, I will marry you.

Future with Will Structure: Affirmative

Subject + will + verb.

I will study in Usa

Negative

Subject + will + not (won't) + verb.

I will not pass my English test

Interrogative: (?)

Will + subject + verb Question mark?

Will you marry me?

Future with “Going to”.

The future with 'going to' is used to express events you have already planned in the future and your intentions for the future.

We sometimes also use the present continuous for planned events in the near future.

Affirmative

Subject + (am- is - are) going to + verb.

I am going to marry next month

Interrogative

(am- is- are) + subject + going to + verb

Are you going to have kids?

Negative

Subject + (am – is – are) + not + going to +) + verb.

She is not going to pass math class
