First Conditional in English.

Cristhian Rojas Vite.

January-June 2019.

ABSTRACT.

With the following power point slides, you will learn how to use the first conditional and also to create sentences that express something that may happen in the future.

Remember that the first conditional is used to talk about things that may possibly happen in the near future.

Key words: First conditional, if, will.

FIRST CONDITIONAL

The first conditional is a structure that we use when we want to talk about possibilities in the present or in the future. In this video you will learn how the first conditional is formed and when we use it.

In first conditional sentences, the structure is usually if + present simple, and will + infinitive

If you pay attention to the presentation, you will learn English.

EXAMPLES:

Now, I am going to give you some other examples about the use of the first conditional.

If I win the lottery, I will buy a new car.

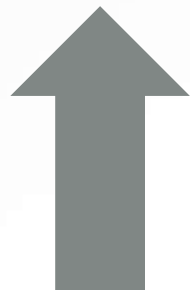

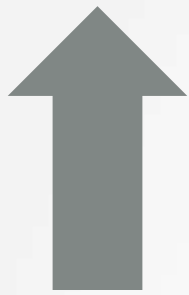

If she goes to school, she will learn about different subjects.
