Desarrollo del Tema:

How much ?

How many?

When we want to know the quantity or amount of something we ask questions starting with:

How much...? / How many... ?

A countable noun is anything that can be counted in separate units:

buildings, cars, dots, bottles, pencils, children, etc.

You want to know the quantity or amount

How many + plural (countable) noun.

With them we use how many:

How many cars are in your garage? There are ten cars.

An uncountable nouns are those that we can't count in individual units:
water, air, light, snow, rain, iron, etc.

With them we use how much:

How much water is in that glass? There is a little.

How much + uncountable noun.

You want to know the Price ($)

How much is this dress?

It costs $300 pesos.

How much are these shoes?

There are $ 800 pesos

How much + singular / plural noun (or with the verb “cost” or “be”)

Remember ...

- For countable things, use many.
- For uncountable things, use much.
